Coach Code of Behaviour

Coaches and instructors educate participants in the fundamental techniques, skills and tactics of sailing. Accredited coaches and instructors are vital to quality sailing development.

Sailing coaches and instructors shall:

- Agree to abide by the code of conduct.
- Become accredited via the Member Yachting Association with the National Coaching Accreditation Scheme (NCAS) and keep that accreditation up to date.
- Encourage enjoyment of sailing, participation should be for pleasure, winning is only part of the fun.
- Cater for varying levels of ability so that all sailors have a 'fair go' in both practice and competition.
- Provide equal encouragement to males and females to participate, acquire skills and develop confidence.
- Make opportunities available for exceptionally talented sailors to develop their full sailing potential.
- Prepare and conduct sessions based on sound coaching principles.
- Set realistic standards and objectives for juniors.
- Provide safe sailing conditions.
- Insist that the required protective clothing is fitted and worn appropriately.
- Educate sailors and in the case of juniors, the parents on health and safety in sailing.
- Abide by the ISAF, AOC and ASC Anti-Doping Code.
- Ensure that the consequences of inappropriate behaviour are clearly understood by sailors, and in the case of juniors, the parents.
- Keep up to date with sailing coaching development.
- Operate within the rules and spirit of the sport and teach your sailors to do the same.
- Never ridicule or yell at young sailors for making a mistake or not coming first.
- Provide a good role model of sporting behaviour and respect the rights, dignity and worth of every sailor regardless of their age, gender, ability, cultural background or religion.
